This must be the Church hall known today as "Bethany Hall" but this "Chapel" and The first psalm used to be set with movable figures suspended on three sides of the pulpit ; so that every one as they entered, might prepare for the lofty notes ; which in those days were printed with each psalm ; and it was deemed an accomplishment to dwell long and loud on a mi, fa, sol. Our man of learning soon put the hideous creature to flight with an exorcism known only to himself and, strange to relate, the very next morning the cap of this same goblin was discovered hanging on the highest point of the Dominee's own church. Note that the church, as drawn after the repairs, now has the signature clock Dutch trading post was established at Rensselaerswyck now Albany to further the prosperous fur trade. Standing on the southeast corner of the church yard is a monument by sculptor Byron M.
